AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

GRADUATES LOOK FORWARD TO RECEIVING COVETED SHEEPSKINS TO-NIGHT

As there was no scheduled session in school yesterday there is not a great deal to write about to-day, the only persons venturing near the building throughout the day being the members of the faculty, who were making out grades, and a few unfortunate students who fell down in their examinations. The only class gathering of the day took place at 10 o'clock, when the seniors all met in the auditorium of the Methodist church for the purpose of going over a little business and also to go over this evening's program. Earl Brown, who is chairman of the memorial committee, made the report that the material for the flagpole has already been obtained, and that all that remains to be done is to assemble and paint it. A large number of the boys of the class have volunteered to work this morning on it, and with Mr. Richardson in charge the pole should be ready to be erected within the next few days.

Every one of the seventy-five members of the senior class is naturally a little excited to-day in anticipation of their graduation exercises, which take place this evening in the Methodist church auditorium. All of their work has now been completed, and there is nothing else left for them to do but receive their sheepskins. An excellent program has been arranged by members of the class, and this with Judge Bledsoe's commencement address, should help to make a very successful evening. The affair will begin at eight o'clock, and it is advisable that all those without admission tickets come early in order to get a seat. The only part of the auditorium to be open to the public will be the gallery, which has a capacity for seating about 500.

To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock the entire school will assemble for the last time this year, the purpose being to give out report cards, make several announcements concerning next year's routine, and to award some of the students honors for different activities throughout the year. Mr. Moyse will have charge of the meeting and Coach Wight will give out the athletic honors.

Following is the class roll: Phyllis Adam, Hope Armstrong, William Henry Balthis, Kenneth Belden, Richard Berry, Margaret Elizabeth Boucher, Earl X. Brown, Mona Elizabeth Boucher, Frederick A. Butts, Mary Grayson Butts, Kathryn Jeannette Coates, Lehman Wentworth Crandall, Nyda E. Dana, Charlotte Templeton Davis, Paul Fullmer Dieffenbacher, William Conklin Dreyer, Helen Derodah Fischer, Miller Walter Fishel, Marion C. Gamble, Helen E. Gould, Ruth Una Gray, Dan W. ### SERGEANT WALTER HAWKINS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hawkins have received word from their son Walter, who joined the U. S. Army some weeks ago that he has recently been promoted from Orderly to First Sergeant. Walter is a member of the 18th squadron, Aviation corps, located at Fort Houston, Texas, and has five sergeants and fourteen corporals under him. Walter is a member of the senior class of the Glendale Union High School and his diploma will be issued to-morrow night as if he had completed his course. His friends and schoolmates are proud of him and glad he has received this well-deserved promotion.

SOME EXCUSES

RED CROSS SOLICITORS FIND SOME WHO ARE INDIFFERENT TO THE CAUSE

This has been said not a few times to Red Cross solicitors this week and, to our shame, it was right here in Glendale. "Care to?" Why, is that all the interest we have in the humanitarian work of this great organization? Suppose your boy was dying—hurt by a terrible catastrophe, wounded on the field of battle or starving in some far off land—would you, could you say, "I don't know that I care to help"?

This remark is one that has been used as an excuse not to join the A. R. C. Here is another: I have no boys in the service. Neither have we, but kinship extends beyond the ties of nature, for "Suffering makes kin of us all."

Still another excuse—the time-worn salute to the unwelcome canvasser: "Not to-day." Well, when? Shall we wait till to-morrow then? for "to-morrow never comes" and the need is RIGHT NOW.

"I can't join another thing; I already have so many obligations." Are these burdensome obligations so numerous, for instance, that you would not have time to stop by the roadside as did the Good Samaritan or "give a cup of cold water to one of these my brethren"?

No excuses, fellow Glendalians. Call up the Membership Chairman (Mrs. R. E. Chase, Glendale 1 or Home 864) and say, "I've changed my mind; I MUST join at once." Indifference is just as wrong as any sin!

UNIFORMITY OF PARKING

A gentleman who is quite observing in his ways remarked to the editor of the Evening News a few days ago how much could be added to the general appearance of the business streets if automobile owners would adopt a systematic method of parking. He referred to what he had just witnessed on Brand boulevard, where there was a great diversity of parking position. Some autos were standing parallel with the curbing, some had a position of 45 degrees, and others had a position of about 90 degrees. This gentleman suggested that white lines be painted on the street indicating the angle at which autos should park. Such suggestions are always worth heeding.

TOWEL SHOWER

Mrs. Robert Manning of 144 Elrose street was hostess Tuesday evening at a tea towel shower given in honor of Miss Barbara Askeland, who is to be married Saturday evening to Mr. Herbert Matthiesen. Refreshments were served and a delightful evening enjoyed. The bride-to-be was presented with a number of neatly hemmed towels that will often remind her of her friends. The guests were Miss Alice Watson, Miss May Jepson, Miss Marguerite Keopke, Miss Irene Wilkes, Miss Clema Wilkes, Miss Tempa Wilkes, Miss Ruth Matthiesen, Mrs. L. B. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Matthiesen, Mrs. Pebbles and Mrs. Nettie Turner.

PLEASANT REST ROOM

Geo. E. Clayton, proprietor of the Maxwell Automobile Agency at 443 South Brand boulevard, has equipped a very fine rest room for people who have a few minutes to spend while waiting until an order is filled or a job of work is completed. The comfortable easy chairs, the beautiful rug and the charming singing birds all tend to relieve the weary person of the heat of the day, and will aid in driving dull care away. In the meantime while you rest there is no rule that will bar you from witnessing the fine display of Maxwell and Hupmobile touring cars.

ALABAMA-MISSISSIPPI FOLKS

Former residents of Mississippi and Alabama will endeavor to have the best ever held in the way of picnic reunions Saturday afternoon, June 23rd, with basket dinners at four o'clock. Coffee will be provided but bring cup and spoon with your dinner. There will be a brief program, Judge Monta J. Moore being the Speaker. The county registers will be used so all may meet friends.

RED CROSS REPORT

Mrs. Harlan reports that the Red Cross solicitors have registered members as follows this week:

Mrs. Leppelman, District 1, 19.
Mrs. Nichols, District 2, 5.
Mrs. Duffield, District 8, 18.
Mrs. Ocker, District 7, 65.
Mrs. Chambers, District 11, 3.

DESTROYER RAMS U-BOAT

GERMAN SUBMERSIBLE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN SUNK IN COLLISION WITH AMERICAN VESSEL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, June 21.—A German submarine was rammed and sunk by an American destroyer after a German-born American bluejacket sighted the submarine while the U-boat was almost directly under the destroyer, according to the belief expressed by the American ship's crew, expressed here to-day. The destroyer sighted a periscope running in an almost calm sea. Immediatey the submersible dived and the destroyer swept the seas for her. Suddenly the bluejacket shouted, "There she is," and the destroyer bore down on her. A distinct shock of collision was felt when the American vessel rammed the U-boat.

FIGHTING CONTINUES ON WEST FRONT

BRITISH MAKE GAINS IN SOME SECTIONS—CANADIANS CAPTURE TRENCHES ON OUTSKIRTS OF LENS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, June 21.—The Germans have retreated from all the territory west of the river Lys and from near Warneton southward. The Teutons decamped in the face of crushing British blows. Fighting continues along the northern part of the French line. Canadians have captured the remaining trenches below Reservoir hill on the outskirts of Lens. The British have also made further slight gains south of the Coujul river but north of this stream the storm of German artillery fire practically wiped out the front line of British trenches.

The Petrograd war office reports fusillades and aerial activity on all fronts.

SUBMARINE LOSSES

MARITIME EXPERT COMPILES REPORT SHOWING ENGLAND HAS LOST 642 VESSELS SINCE FEBRUARY 1

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, June 21.—The Germans have sunk 2,000,000 tons of British ships alone since the unlimited submarining was declared February 1 according to figures cited this afternoon by a maritime expert who bases his conclusions on official British lists of losses. During the submarine campaign England has lost 642 vessels.

SUFFRAGETTES AGAIN ATTACKED

ANGRY MOBS DESTROY BANNERS WHICH SUFFRAGE PICKETS DISPLAY IN FRONT OF WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Hundreds of angry people again attacked the suffrage pickets before the White House this morning and destroyed their banners denouncing President Wilson and Envoy Root. The banners bore the same mottoes as yesterday, to the effect that America is not a democracy.

SEARCH FOR BODIES

POLICE EXPECT TO FIND REMAINS OF GIRLS WHO MET SAME FATE AS RUTH CRUGER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, June 21.—The police began digging in two new cellars to-day, expecting to find other girls believed to have met the fate of Ruth Cruger at the hands of Alfredo Cocchi, who formerly occupied the shops above both basements.

ALFREDO COCCHI ARRESTED

ITALIAN CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF NEW YORK HIGH SCHOOL FOUND IN BOLOGNA, ITALY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, June 21.—Alfredo Cocchi, wanted in New York for trial charged with the murder of Ruth Cruger, was arrested in Bologna by the Italian authorities this afternoon.

VIOLENT ATTACKS ON FRENCH LINES

FRESH GERMAN TROOPS FROM RUSSIAN FRONT STORM FRENCH POSITIONS AND PENETRATE LINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 21.—"Extremely violent attacks" against positions east of Vaux-Hillon by fresh German troops from the Russian front penetrated the French lines south of Monke mountain. The French regained their former positions this morning.

AIR INVASION PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Invasion of Germany through the air with success seems certain if the National Defense aerial program goes through. This provides for 4000 American aeroplanes at the front by April and 10,000 by August of next year.

CHURCH TRAVELS

SECRETARY GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WRITES FROM DENVER

Denver, Colorado.
June 18, 1917.

Editor Glendale News:

Do you know, Mr. Editor , I realize about how Rip Van Winkle felt when he returned to the village of Falling Water.

As I mined in Leadville and visited in Denver for weeks at a time, many times, I knew Denver fairly well. But now, after looking around for an hour, I recognize the Capitol, Cherry Creek, a few streets, and the mountains. Not a single soul have I found whom I know. Several are out of town. Many have crossed the Great Divide or gone to other places preparing for that final exit. The last time I was in Denver I went east in the same car with Senator Thomas M. Patterson to attend the convention which nominated Wm. Jennings Bryan for the presidency the first time. I heard the Cross of Gold and Crown of Thorns oration. Never before or since have I seen a great audience so moved.

By the way, the same seeress ("Aletheia," now of Pasadena) who predicted Wilson's election as Governor of New Jersey and as President to succeed himself, also foretold that Wilson would be succeeded after his second term by "the Peace President, William Jennings Bryan." There's the tip. "Take it or leave it."

On the way east I have talked with more than one who believes that Wilson will ignore the third term prejudice and again succeed himself. Food for thought, right there.

Anent the high cost of breathing, the peanut butcher on the Salt Lake Route train was the only thing about that train which did not give "value received." The weather was fairly torrid on June 16, Saturday last, so he "charges 15 cents per small bottle for root beer an' sich," as I heard a returning New England grandmother indignantly complaining. But at Las Vegas—over the line in Nevada, he owns an interest in an ice cream cone and soft drink stand in the station—where he sells the same sized bottles of the same root beer for a nickel and sells ten times as many of them. "Might makes right" for the train P. B. as well as for the Kaiser, and other plutocrats. Well, so long as they can put it over, the bluff goes. But "there'll come a time "

A resident of Utah told me that the great Salt Lake was drying up. Said the mountain streams that feed it have raised the price to a prohibitory limit, and the stubborn old lake vows it would rather become a salt flat than be held up in that shape. Principle is principle, so don't be by way of saying "that old lake is too fresh," for it is not—quite the contrary.

Between Salt Lake City and Denver, whether near Green River, Laramie City or where, "boots it not." but if I did not see some of the slickest "bootlegging" on the train, then "all signs fail in dry weather." No, not a drop of it did I get, but the air gave the snap away, so that certain strange maneuvers as it were, took on a local meaning and a name. "What funny things you see when you haven't got a gun." "Of all sad things of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—it might have been." That's what an old Laramie City man, of Bill Nye's Boomerang days, exclaimed when I broke the news to him, after we had left the "locus," so to speak. He had not savvied the game. Perhaps he was deaf, as well as purblind, and the voice of the tempter failed to reach him.

A great many young men were on the train going east, being bound for the wars. There was a special car full of Stanford University students, fine looking chaps. I hate to think what may be their fate.

But men must fight
And women must weep;
The ways of right
And wrong are too deep.
For mere humans to understand.

Anyhow, there's a Divinity doth shape our ends, rough-hew them as we may, and whatever is to be will be—whenever it comes to pass. (Selah.)

To-day Denver seems to have borrowed some of Glendale's weather, but it may have been San Diego's. Perhaps that is why the sun did such terrible things down in that usually Heaven-favored city by the sea.

There goes the train megaphone: "All aboard for Kansas City and"—so more anon.

When one thinks of Glendale the Beautiful, "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

WALT. LE NOIR CHURCH.

LITERARY SECTION

CLOSE YEAR'S WORK THIS AFTERNOON—PARTY AT HOME OF MRS. EVARTS

The ladies of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club spent a delightful afternoon at the pretty home of Mrs. F. H. Evarts, 445 S. Central avenue, on Tuesday. The rooms were beautifully decorated in twining ferns, with tiny flags here and there and everywhere, and several large bowls of sweet peas. The veranda, where punch was served, was also a bower of green. The informal program was much enjoyed. Mrs. Daugherty read a heart-touching piece, "Our Flag." Mrs. Goss "dried our eyes" with a comic selection and as an encore in a clever bit of poetry presented Mrs. Weaver a gold piece as "thanks" from the section for her hospitality during the year.

Mrs. Haygood pleased her audience with two piano solos. A huge bouquet of pink sweet peas with ferns and tulle tied, was presented the curator, Mrs. Ramsay, in appreciation of her services during the year. In a charming manner Mrs. Willisford gave a medley of poetry. Next on the program was a "gossip game" which caused much merriment. A dainty little maiden, Clara Louise Russell, carrying a basket of tiny silk flags, presented one to each guest as a gift from our gracious hostess.

Delicious refreshments of red, white and blue frosted cakes were served.

This pleasant gathering was a most happy finale to a splendid year's work together. Thanks are due Mrs. Geo. Adams, chairman of refreshments; Mrs. Albert Pearce, chairman of decoration; Mrs. A. L. Weaver, chairman of entertinment, and Mrs. Evarts for the hospitality of her home.

CELEBRATES THIRD ANNIVERSARY

Yesterday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnett McIrvin, 473 Orange Grove avenue, was changed into a modern Fairyland by the presence of an even dozen little folks, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McIrvin's little son, Malcolm. The occasion for the party was the third birthday anniversary of the young host, who received a number of beautiful presents. The house was decorated in pink and white, the same color scheme even being carried out in the refreshments. Also, most of the young guests were garbed in pink and white, making in all an exceedingly appropriately appearing scene for such an occasion.

Several games were enjoyed by the little folks during the afternoon, and at about 5 o'clock Mrs. McIrvin, assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Beesley, served delicious refreshments, which met with the hearty approval of those present. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the youthful "Mr." McIrvin were Leone Anderson, Belle Eachus, Alta Hall, Ruth Brewster, Douglas MacDonald, Travis MacDonald, Ozro Anderson, Herbert Eachus, Frankie Arnold, Richard Arnold, David Brent and Johnnie Marvel.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NON-SECTARIAN BY LAW

Editor Glendale Evening News:

In 1907 the late Bishop Conaty appointed me to organize the Catholic Church in Glendale.

Twice recently I have preached in the church of "The Red Cross," and exhorted my people to join in this noble work for humanity.

Catholics are loyal American citizens, but when it comes to divine worship we claim our constitutional right to "worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience."

One of the laws of the Catholic Church is: "Catholics sin in conscience who attend non-Catholic places of worship." Consequently, Catholics can not in conscience attend the graduating exercises tonight of the Glendale Union High School in the Methodist church.

June 21, 1917.

JAMES S. O'NEILL, Pastor.

WANT ROOSEVELT AND HIS VOLUNTEERS

The people everywhere in the United States want Roosevelt and his thousands of volunteers to be permitted to go to France and engage in the great struggle against Germany. The man who engages in a cause with a willing and courageous heart is worth ten men who are merely machines.

All men are not mathematically inclined and all men are not war inclined. This statement is a fact, and history has proven its truthfulness.

Wilson is a grand and good president and he was honored with the position which he holds by the vote of a grand and good people. The people who had the good judgment to elect Wilson president say they want Roosevelt and his volunteers to go to France. If the judgment of the people was all right eight months ago, why is it not all right now? The Evening News is not finding fault with the actions of President Wilson, or with the decisions of Congress, but it does thoroughly believe that it is the wish of the people that Col. Roosevelt, who has a worldwide acquaintance and a knowledge of the war conditions, be permitted to go to France with his fifty thousand or more volunteers.

At a meeting of the editors of Southern California daily newspapers held at Long Beach last Saturday there was present a very fair representation of the press of Southern California, and while engaging in informal discussions of the war situation, ninety-five per cent. of the men present thought it would be a good plan to allow Col. Roosevelt and volunteers to go to France, and the views of these newspaper men coincide with the views of the people in general.

The world war that is now on is a terrible one, and its end is not in sight. The assistance of every man is needed,—some to engage in real warfare, some to be in training to take the places of those who fall on the battlefield and others to till the soil, manufacture the various products necessary for clothing and feeding the people at home and the men in war.

Preparedness everywhere should be the aim of everybody. Forts of protection should be built along the coasts, home guards should be organized, military training should be a part of the public school course. War ships should be built and men trained to man them. All kinds of preparations should be made for the United States to protect her honor on the land, the sea and in the air. And while the people are being educated, while the young men are being drafted and while systematic preparations are going on, may it be the will of the military heads of the nation as it is the will of the people, to allow Col. Roosevelt and the volunteers to go to the front. This act will not detract from anybody's military honor and it may aid in a speedy close of the war. When the word goes out that Col. Roosevelt with a great army of men is to land on French soil with a determination of aiding in conquering the world for democracy, a united cheer will go up in the United States, France and Great Britain which, backed by true patriotic efforts in thorough preparedness, will bring about a speedy close of the war.

"A. R. C."

Red Cross Week is wearing on. Something is being accomplished here in Glendale every day. How much have you done?

The membership drive is netting many new members, but not as many as might be. Why allow the actual workers to do all the work? You can go to them (or to Roberts and Echols Drug Store) and register your membership, and you can urge friends to join without being definitely selected as an authorized solicitor. Don't leave all the work for the few—"Many hands make light work."

Then there is another thing you can do to-morrow: Go to the Garden Party, pay the ridiculous sum of twenty-five cents and hear Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw sing. Get your friends to come with you. Phone some of your out-of-town friends about this to-night.

Remember this Garden Party—to-morrow, Friday, afternoon at 3 o'clock on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Toll, 1635 Kenneth Road, Casa Verdugo.

This is the least you can do to help the A. R. C.

MISGUIDED THRIFT

In our efforts to be patriotically economical, we find ourselves going to extremes in the opposite direction, which is just as great a menace as wastefulness and extravagance, says S. W. Strauss, president of the American Society for Thrift. One of the worst calamities that could befall our nation at any time would be to stop the wheels of industry, but more especially NOW.

The point is to differentiate between destructive and constructive thrift. In times of peace or war, waste is reprehensible, but indiscriminate tight-fistedness is worse, because in such conditions the provident are made to suffer with the improvident.

Because the whole nation suddenly has become conscious of the necessity of thrift, we as individuals should take care not to deflect from their normal courses the tides of the nation's money that turn the wheels of industry. America as a nation is not in any danger of running short of money, but we are threatened with a food shortage because on us rests the duty and responsibility of feeding our allies.

Everyone can distinguish the difference between prudent living and wastefulness. If a man buys a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes or a hat, his money goes into legitimate circulation and furnishes uses for capital and employment of labor.

The American people have responded in a grand way to the needs of the hour. We are going to conserve our resources and increase our food supply in a way that will astonish the world, but in doing this we stand face to face with economic hardships unless each individual is governed by common sense, prudence and foresight.

In brief, administer your expenditures in a clean, honest, legitimate and patriotic manner. Eliminate waste of food, bearing in mind that every mouthful you save may be the sustenance of some starving fellow-human being abroad. We should not tear down on one hand while we are trying to build up on the other. Those in business should not hesitate—be courageous and keep on going. America has everything to make herself prosperous. The billions of dollars which are being raised for war purposes will eventually return into the pockets of the people. Even the money which we loan to our allies is being spent immediately in America. The national bond issue means that for some years to come this country will be paying back the obligations incurred to-day. America is still in the midst of the greatest era of material prosperity the country has ever known.

In the matter of individual expenditure every man should be guided by his own necessities and the needs of his country. Let none of us be a slacker in the business world. This is no day for the coward or weakling. Be brave and confident. Remember the most acute need of our nation to-day is intelligent, productive, constructive thrift.

DON'T SAY—

Dr. Slosson, a Columbia university history professor, submits a little set of "dont's" worth heeding in war discussions. Here are some of them:

Don't say, "My country, right or wrong!" We aren't wrong.

"Don't call every pro-ally "pro-British." Great Britain is only one of a dozen or so of the allies.

Don't say that both sides think they are fighting a defensive war. A man may honestly think that two and six are eleven, but that doesn't make them so.

Don't call universal training "Prussian militarism." It is no more Prussian than it is Swiss, French, British, Argentine, Japanese or Australian.

Don't say that we owe aid to France on account of Lafayette. We didn't help France in 1870, and we were right not to do so. We only owe aid to any nation when it is fighting (as at present) in a righteous quarrel.

Don't say, "It doesn't make any difference to the workingman what country governs him." On the contrary, it makes more difference to him than to anyone else, because the rich man can spend his time in travel or buy his way into privileged class if he finds political conditions oppressive.

Don't say that "Wall Street,, or "British gold" or the "Northcliffe press" made this war. You don't have to bribe a nation to make it resent the murder of its citizens.

AUTO HEADLIGHTS

Elimination of glare from automobile headlights is ridiculously easy when the headlights are hung on forked brackets, according to George S. Waite, sales manger of a large motorcar corporation. He says:

"The problem of headlight glare, which is not only inconvenient to approaching motorists, but positively dangerous, and which has caused so many accidents, has been the subject of deep study for more than a year by a committee of members of the Society of Automobile Engineers. At the conclusion of its investigations the committee made recommendations for a standard headlight which would throw a concentrated beam of light for a distance of 200 feet and yet with its highest point not more than forty-two inches from the ground.

"The solution is to set the lamp so that the upper edge of this beam, which, if the lamp is a good one, is clearly defined, will be parallel to the ground. When the lamp is set square the center line of the beam is parallel to the ground, but the distance between the edges of the beam grows greater as the distance from the lamp grows greater.

"It is, however, easy to understand that if the upper edge of the shaft of light is parallel to the ground the light will extend for as great a distance as the lamp is capable of throwing it, but will be sufficiently low so that it will not strike the eyes of a person approaching, whether afoot or in a vehicle."

THE SELFISH SPIRIT

In all of our dealings with our fellowmen we should strive not to be shortsighted. Selfishness is the cause of great anguish and suffering in this world that might be perfectly delightful in every respect. The great war now going on is caused by the selfishness on the part of some.

The desire to have our own way, even at the expense of ruining a good cause, retards progress and should always be discouraged.

Use your influence for what is good, and if you can not be a diligent worker for a good cause, at least avoid being a knocker.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Richardson of 119 Belmont street are spending the week at Long Beach.

Mrs. E. U. Emery has taken a cottage at Santa Monica and is enjoying the sea breeze.

Mrs. R. W. Meeker, of 300 East Colorado boulevard, has been confined to her home with illness since last Sunday.

Mr. Leslie Meeker and family, who formerly resided on Fifth street, were visiting in Glendale this week. Mr. Meeker is now on a large orange ranch at Anaheim and is much pleased with their present home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Foster of Newton, Ill., who have been visting their daughter, Mrs. Frank J. Kuntzner, 1505 West First street, for some months, are leaving for a visit to relatives in Santa Ana and Orange to-day.

Claude B. Norton of East Third street, who sustained a broken ankle when a skidding auto upset the wagon in which he and his father, Mr. Willis A. Norton, were riding recently, is able to be out with the aid of crutches.

Mrs. Clifford Yankee and small son James, daughter and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Collins of 319 West Third street, are visiting in Glendale, preparatory to removing to Coachella, where they will make their home.

Miss Vera Sinclair, who has recently undergone a serious operation at Thornycroft hospital, has sufficiently recovered to be removed to her home, 221 Sinclair avenue yesterday. Her family and large circle of friends are rejoicing over her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell were week-end guests at Hotel del Coronado and found everything delightful at that hostelry and noted resort. They missed the unbearably hot weather of this section, as it was delightfully cool at Coronado.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith of 143 South Maryland Avenue, are enjoying a little vacation this week, Mr. Smith spending the week at Lancaster, the guest of his niece, Mrs. Courtright Hite, better known as Miss Monica Smith. Mrs. Smith is visiting her cousin, Miss Maude Moore of Altadena.

Miss Edith Nichols and Mrs. Crank of Cincinnati, Ohio, daughter and sister of Mrs. Frances H. Nichols, 225 South Adams, arrived to-day and will be the guests of Mrs. Nichols and son B. H. Nichols for some time. They will also be in Los Angeles and the various beaches during the summer.

The members of the Junior Philathea class of the First Methodist Sunday School are planning on a big food sale to take place next Saturday at Chaffee's grocery store on Brand boulevard. The girls are endeavoring to earn enough money in this way to defray all expenses for the furnishing of their new class room, and the sale should be well patronized.

A jolly party joined Mr. and Mrs. Emery at the beach the first of the week and spent a delightful day in the surf, escaping the maddening heat of the interior. Those enjoying this brief respite beside Mr. and Mrs. Emery and family were Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant and sons Dean, Hugh and Albert, Robert Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ferguson and daughter Esther.

The Pioneer Thimble club were entertained by Mrs. A. R. Chappell, 1462 Myrtle street, on Wednesday. All members were present and Mrs. Robert Frazee was the guest of the day. A delightful musical program was given by Mrs. A. R. Chappell and Mrs. C. M. Vandyke, followed by delicious refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Vandyke.

Mrs. Ed M. Lee is entertaining her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wilbur Miltonberger of Clinton, Oklahoma, for the summer. Owing to the fact that Kenneth Lee was a victim of the prevalent disease, measles, Mrs. Lee took a cottage at Santa Monica and Miss Dorothy Lee is acting as hostess to her aunt and small son at that delightful resort. Mrs. Lee and son Wilbur spent yesterday at the beach with their guests.

Miss Leta Adams, sister of Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 S. Kenwood street, returned to-day from a visit to San Diego.

Mrs. Ivan Robinson and little son Robert have returned from Indiana, and were the guests of Mrs. T. C. Jones, 238 Dayton court, on Wednesday.

The many friends of Wilmot Parcher will be sorry to hear that he was overcome by the heat at his mountain home, Monte Vista, on Friday last and for several days was in a very serious condition. Mrs. Parcher was spending the week at Balboa, but was summoned home and reports Mr. Parcher's condition improved this morning.

Mr. Mattison B. Jones returned last evening from Redlands, where he attended the commencement exercises of Redlands University. Mr. Jones is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Redlands University, and reports the largest class ever graduated from that institution and the commencement exercises were very fine in every way.

Rev. B. Dudley Snudden and Mrs. Snudden returned last evening from a delightful little auto trip, "just sauntering around," as Mrs. Snudden aptly put it. No doubt this estimable pastor and wife needed this little rest after their arduous duties which attended the completion and dedication of the handsome new First Methodist church.

Mrs. W. D. Root, corresponding secretary of the State Woman's Christian Temperance Union, addressed the Los Angeles federation in the Times building Wednesday afternoon. "War Service as conducted by the W. C. T. U." and "Conservation of Foodstuffs" were her topics. Mrs. Ruby J. Smart was also a guest of the federation.

THE DEDICATION

How is this? I thought that was a closed incident, signed sealed and delivered—so perfect, complete, and such a good finish withal as to leave no imperfection on which to hang a criticism. True, to such an extent that any attempt at criticism changes easily to commendation. With no purpose to blame or praise, to hurt anybody in either direction, the following is presented for consideration. I may use words and expressions unknown to the "profession." All the worse for the profession if I am understood.

In the constructive features expressed by the term materials—the wood, stone, concrete, brick, and the few nerves of iron necessary to tie here, and support at some other point, the point of my question goes to the asking in a very modest way if, in our rejoicing over the beautiful edifice, the finished product, there is not some danger of overlooking a degree of credit due to those at work on the lower level, whose names never appear on the programs, but whose honest work in smiting the forests was necessary before King Hiram could raft his Lebanon cedars to Joppa, that Solomon's master carpenters could from their rough trunks "hew the shaft and lay the architrave" necessary in the contemplated temple whose building was to be model for the world for all time? In that model at Jerusalem, no more than in relative degree in the Glendale structure, was the finished edifice a possibility without a combination and oneness in purpose running all through the theory of construction, the crude, rude material holding its relative importance in the finished house. Neither the handlers of the crude nor the most skillful in architecture could produce, separately.

The "hewers of wood" and the "drawers of water" are factors to be reckoned with at every stage of the moving column, and a good foundation is always in order as a start. Failure to do this made trouble in Bible times and continues to make trouble for all times and all countries. A skillful builder never risks his reputation as a mechanic in building on a bad foundation, be the structure moral or material.

I make no claim that my moralisms are necessary at any point in this case. "I took notes" at various points, from initial shoveling of dirt for the excavation, down to the finished building, and speaking from a practical knowledge of an "honest job," I would not hesitate to call this one; a model for beauty, viewed at any angle externally, while the auditorium meets with universal admiration for simple yet elegant appointments.

There is no such a thing as common labor, under whihc it becomes a term of reproach, for the term "dignity of labor" sticks like a plaster to the honest toiler, be he sweeping the streets or carrying the hod.

A mid zone between parsimony on the one hand and mere display on the other is not always found or followed, yet with the thought that material in crude or finished state is His anyhow, and that the best is none too good for the Master's use, the officiary and members are to be congratulated on the success achieved in producing a temple creditable in all respects for the purpose contemplated. A home wherein our Spirit Head, God Himself, will delight to meet and bless all "who seek to worship Him in spirit and truth." S. P.

FLORENCE ROBINSON A BRIDE

The Boulder, Colorado, Daily Camera gives the following account of the marriage of Miss Florence Robinson, formerly of Glendale, a graduate of Glendale Union High School, and a sister of Mrs. C. G. Farrow of 1314 Doran street.

Miss Florence Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Clara F. Robinson, became the bride of Clarence Louis Eckel last evening at a very pretty wedding performed at the bride's home, 1315 11th street. At 8 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Mrs. Benjamin F. Chaney, the bridal party descended the stairs and marched to an improvised altar of palms and ferns, where they stood while Rev. Ralph C. McAfee performed the wedding.

The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a number of the most intimate friends of the couple. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white chiffon and net over charmeuse. Her tulle veil was held in place by lilies of the valley. She carried a pretty bouquet of this flower and of sweet peas and lilacs. Mrs. Frank Streamer, sister of the bride, and Mr. Streamer were the attendants. Mrs. Streamer wore a gown of blue taffeta.

After the wedding an informal reception was held. Refreshments were served. The Robinson home was prettily decorated for the wedding in yellow and white and with spring flowers. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Eckel left on a honeymoon trip. The bride, who has been a resident of Boulder for several years, has many friends here. The groom is an instructor in the civil engineering department of the University, is a member of the honorary fraternities Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, of the Masonic fraternity, Acacia, and of Sigma Phi Epsilon. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Eckel of Denver, who with their daughter Mildred and son Glen were in attendance at the wedding. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Laughlin of Denver and the bride's uncle, John Fairchild of Little Rock, Ark.

Mr. Eckel is a first lieutenant of Company B, Engineers. He is a graduate of the University and during his undergraduate days played a star game as center on the Varsity football team.

OBITUARY

Harriet Newell Miller was born near New Lexington, O., July 6, 1835. Her father, John Denman Miller, moved to Eaton, the county seat, in 1850. Later she attended Oxford Female College at Oxford, O., then under the presidencey of Rev. Dr. J. W. Scott, the father-in-law of Pres. Benjamin Harrison. May 21, 1857, she was married to Rev. John Hughes Harris of Middlebury, O., who was a graduate of Miami University and of Western Theological Seminary. He was pastor of various churches in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. In October, 1883, they came to Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Harris died in Glendale, Cal., in November, 1886. Mrs. Harris lived in Los Angeles and Glendale till June 18, 1917, when her life went quietly out without the intervention of sickness. The later years of her life were passed quietly at home.

Her daughter, Miss Ann Judson Harris, has been her housekeeper, her constant attendant and caretaker. Another daughter is the wife of Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, D.D., of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, and is a musician of great ability. An only son, Mr. M. M. Harris, lives in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Harris was one of the earliest workers in the W. C. T. U., and in the Woman's Crusade was a noble worker. She was a companion and friend of Frances E. Willard, was a national organizer and lecturer for the W. C. T. U., doing much work in Illinois, her home being in Lake Bluff. The So. Cal. State Union was being formed when she arrived in Los Angeles, in October, 1883. She was made superintendent of work among foreigners. Mrs. Harris was always much interested in foreign missionary work, and in her college days desired to be sent to India, but the board decided that the climate of that country was too exacting for her health. She was always active in the mission society work of the local churches where she was located. She was one of four sisters whose homes have been in Glendale many years. Mrs. E. T. Byram and Mrs. Alice M. Ayers came to Los Angeles in October, 1882, and to Glendale a year later. Mrs. Sophia M. Galloway has made her home with Mrs. Ayers since 1904. Their father, Mr. J. D. Miller, came in 1883 and died at the home of Mrs. Byram in Glendale October, 1884. Mrs. Harris and her sisters are lineal descendants of John and Priscilla Alden of Mayflower fame.

The funeral service was held at the Pulliam parlors Wednesday afternoon, in charge of Rev. W. E. Edmonds, assisted by Rev. R. W. Clelland, D.D., of Los Angeles. At the close, Miss Waugh sang a composition of Miss Harris', based on I Thessalonians 4:13-18, which Mrs. Harris had requested to be sung at her funeral. Interment at Evergreen cemetery, beside her father and husband.

SUFFRAGE IN NORWAY

Among the most important laws enacted by Norway since women have had the vote are the two maternity insurance laws of 1909 and 1915 and the divorce law of 1910.

"Since the women in Norway have got the vote," says Ella Anker in Jus Suffragii, "they have turned their chief attention to their rights and duties as wives and mothers Education and economic independence are the basis of woman's freedom, but her greatest work and happiness will be as wife and mother. It is an astonishing fact that in all these centuries, while men have taught us that womans' place is in the home, they have neglected to prepare us for the chief duties of our home life."

Norwegian women have also given particular strength to the work for "rational housekeeping" by the establishment of a state high school for the education of teachers for the elementary housekeeping schools, to a campaign against consumption and to the support of the peace movement.

A SENSIBLE QUESTION

The callers were staying very late and little Jennie, who had become very tired, finally said:

"Mamma, hadn't all of us better go to bed so Mr. Brown's folks can go home?"—Harper's Magazine.

EARNED HIS TITLE

"If you have never had any military experience, how did you happen to get the title of colonel?" asked the inquisitive stranger.

"Well, if you must know," replied the old-fashioned southern gentleman, "early in life I gave $5 to a colored head waiter and I've been a colonel ever since."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

LA POLITESSE

The Fair One—Oh, I wished I had lived a hundred years ago. The Other One—But then you would be a long time dead and would not be sitting here happily by my side. The Fair One—True, true! So I couldn't. Forgive me, dearest!—New York Post.

HIS ULTIMATE STANDARD

His ultimate standard of value to which everything, alike in art and in social and political relations, is referred, is—not success, not enjoyment, whether sensuous, sentimental, or aesthetic, but—the measure in which may thereby be trained up that higher life of humanity.—J. C. Brown in "Life of George Eliot."

Mrs. Crabshaw—I might have married that man who became a millionaire.

Crabshaw—Forget it, my dear. If he had married you he would be as poor as I am.—Lamb.

INDUSTRY

"Bliggins says he got on by burning the midnight oil."

"Well, keeping late hours did help him somewhat. He danced all night three or four times a week till finally he met a rich girl and married her."—Washington Star.

COMBINATION OF BOTH

"What have you there, Lucille—a business letter or a love letter?"

"I hardly know how to answer that question. This letter is from a duke, proposing for my hand, and addressed to my lawyer"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

KNEW BALFOUR

My Irish gardener asked: "Did Arthur Balfour come to Chicago with General Joffre? There is a fine old man. I should like to see him again and shake his hand."

"Did you know him?" I asked.

"Sure and didn't I help rotten egg him in Manchester twenty-six years ago last May day-"—Chicago Tribune.

Co-operation is a matter of give as well as take. Sometimes it amounts to doing the other fellows way when he won't do ours. Men cannot work together save for the common good, and in every democratic organization the majority must have the privilege of determining what is for the common good.

It ain't the guns nor armament, nor funds that they can pay,
But the close co-operation that makes them win the day—
It ain't the individual nor the army, as a whole,
But the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul.
—Rudyard Kipling.

With gardens, back and front, given over to potatoes, and men and women everywhere devoting spare time to the cultivation of waste spaces, it is not to be wondered at that the spring poet should adapt himself to changed conditions. One such has thus caught the spirit of the times in a recent issue of the Manchester Guardian:

But yester year we sheltered jonquils rare,
Box-bordered in a sweet and sightly bed,
Where now, more succulent, but much less fair,
Potatoes bloom instead.

TO REMEMBER

All men on whom the higher nature has stamped the love of truth should especially concern themselves in laboring for posterity, in order that future generations may be enriched by their efforts, as they themselves were made rich by the efforts of generations past.—Dante.

PROVED UNNECESSARY

"This seems to be a very dangerous precipice," remarked the tourits. "I wonder that they have not put up a warning board."

"Yes, it is dangerous," answered the guide. "They kept a warning board up for two years, but no one fell over, so it was taken down."—Harper's Magazine.

LOW RATES TO BEACH

Mr. D. W. Pontius, Traffic Manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, announces that the same arrangement will be made for this summer that has been in effect during the past several years whereby excursion tickets will be sold from Los Angeles at 25 cents for the round trip; children under 12 years of age, 15 cents for the round trip, to the Beach Resorts on Thursdays during the summer months except that tickets will not be sold on Thursday, July 5th, for the reason that very few persons will desire to go to the beach on that date on account of the previous day being a holiday.

Tickets will be sold to San Pedro, Long Beach, Seal Beach and Anaheim Landing on June 21st and to Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Playa del Rey, Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach and Redondo Beach on June 28th. The days to be assigned to the different resorts for the months of July, August and September will be announced later.

This low fare is not considered profitable to the Company and is established for the purpose of giving those who cannot well afford to pay the regular fare and make frequent trips to the Beach Resorts during the summer months an opportunity to do so, and is particularly for the benefit of women and children.

HOW TO PITCH CAMP IN AN AUTOMOBILE

"Comfort is to be found in the camp car," says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion, "if you know how to arrange for it. The bed should be in the car if you have no tent, as the charm of sleeping on the ground soon palls, and berths in the machine are easier to arrange than a portable shelter. We used a springy bed of canvas and light frame made to extend across the top of the front seat and allow space for the pillows over the back seat. This affords a waterproof roof for the sleepers in case of rain, and even if a storm should come up the campers can remain snug and warm by buttoning the flaps from the top to the body of the car. Mosquito netting instead of side flaps may be desirable in some camp sites."

WHY WE HAVE PUFFY EYELIDS AND WHAT IT MEANS

Puffy eyelids which will not disappear with strict attention to the laws of health generally indicate some disturbance that needs the personal supervision of a physician. It may be that the liver is out of order, or it may be that the kidneys are not performing their work properly. Therefore such a symptom should not be neglected.

THEY OWN A MOTOR

"So you have a new baby at your house, Harry. How do you like him?"

"I haven't seen much of him yet. I guess he's been in the repair shop most of the time since he came."—Life.

WAR PRICES

A Tommy on furlough entered a jeweler's shop and, placing a much-battered gold watch on the counter, said: "I want this 'ere mended."

After a careful survey, the watchmaker said: "I'm afraid, sir, the cost of repairing will be double what you gave for it."

"I don't mind that," said the soldier. "Will you mend it?"

"Yes," said the jeweler, "at the price."

"Well," remarked Tommy, smiling. "I gave a German a punch on the nose for it, and I'm quite ready to give you two if you'll mend it."—Tit-Bits.

FOREWARNED

"Good Hivins, man! If Casey has run off wid yer wife, why don't ye do somethin'?"

"I'll not do a thing. Ut's his own fault. I warned him."—Exchange.

LEMONS FOR THE NAVY

The probable increase in the size of the Navy and Merchant Marine is likely to develop an important outlet for California lemons.

There is an English maritime law of several centuries ago which requires every ship clearing from an English port to carry among its stores a certain ration of concentrated lemon juice for every man aboard. This law was made in the days when voyages were long and when scurvy on shipboard was not uncommon, and lemon juice was considered then, as now, the most convenient specific remedy with which to combat this disease. The name "lime-juicers," which was often applied to British sailing vessels, originated with this custom of carrying lemon and lime juice for the seamen.

Scurvy is a malnutrition disease and in these days when the ration on shipboard is well balanced and varied, this disease is rare. But the value of lemon juice as a tonic and beverage, particularly when fresh foods are absent,—has been definitely established. Now that the canteen has been abolished from the Navy it is not unlikely that lemons or lemon juice will find more use in the ship's stores, especially on those stationed in tropic waters. The Deutschland and other German submarines are known to carry supplies of lemons to furnish certain peculiar food elements necessary to the health of the crew.

THE MERCENARY MUSE

I fared me forth to woo the muse,
But that mercenary gad
Had run away with a "copy" man,—
And so my verse is bad.
